MMRV VACCINE IS THE BEST WAY TO PROTECT COMMUNITIES AGAINST MEASLES, MUMPS, RUBELLA AND CHICKENPOX

GREAT NEWS!

MMRV will include vaccination against chickenpox (varicella)

Why does my child need to be protected against chickenpox as well as measles, mumps and rubella?

Chickenpox is a very infectious disease caused by a virus and can result in a fever and an itchy, painful spotty rash all over the body. Most children will have a mild illness and recover after around a week. Some children may have a more serious illness requiring hospital admission. In rare cases, children can develop severe complications including chest infection, fits, and encephalitis (inflammation of the brain).

Measles is caused by a contagious virus that spreads very easily. Symptoms include high fever, rash, sore red eyes, cough and runny nose. Children can be off school for 10 days and 1 in 5 people with measles will be admitted to hospital. High-risk conditions include chest infections, fits and brain damage. Around 1 in 5,000 people who catch measles may die from complications.

Mumps is caused by a virus. Symptoms include fever, headache and painful, swollen glands in areas including the face, neck and jaw. Complications from mumps include hearing loss, meningitis and encephalitis.

Rubella is caused by a virus. In children it is usually mild and can cause a rash, swollen glands and a sore throat. If women in the antenatal stage catch rubella it can affect their unborn baby, causing serious damage to their sight, hearing, heart and brain.

When will your child get the MMRV vaccine?

You will be contacted by your GP practice when your child is due for MMRV. There will be 2 doses at 12 and 18 months.

Ensure all childhood immunisations are up to date. Protect those not eligible such as babies under one, antenatal women and people with weakened immune systems as their symptoms can be more severe.

If your child is older or has had a dose of MMR already - see the UKSHA table below.

Keep this table as a reminder for when vaccines are due ✂

DATE OF BIRTH	AGE ON 01 JAN 2026	NEW PROGRAMME FROM 01 JAN 2026	CHILD'S FULL SCHEDULE FOR MMR/MMRV
01/01/2025 or later	1y or under	Two doses of MMRV at 12m and 18m	12m - MMRV 18m - MMRV 3y 4m - no MMR
01/07/2024 to 31/12/2024	> 1y to 18m	Two doses of MMRV at 18m and 3y 4m (children should have received 1st dose of MMR at 12m)	12m - MMR 18m - MMRV 3y 4m - MMRV
01/09/2022 to 30/06/2024	> 18m to 3y 4m	One dose of MMRV at 3y 4m	12m - MMR 18m - not scheduled 3y 4m - MMRV
01/01/2020 to 31/08/2022	> 3y 4m to < 6y	Catch-up offered from 01 Nov 2026 to 31 Mar 2028 for those who have not yet had chickenpox infection or two doses of varicella vaccination	12m - MMR 3y 4m - MMR MMRV offered between 01/11/2025 and 31/03/2028 if no history of chickenpox or two varicella vaccines
31/12/2019 or before	6y and older	Not eligible	12m - MMR 3y 4m - MMR

What if my child has already had chickenpox?

There are no known safety concerns and they can safely have the MMRV vaccine.

What if my child has already had the MMR vaccine which does not contain protection against the chicken pox virus?

Speak to your practice nurse or health visitor as some children will have received 2 doses of MMR or will be offered MMRV as a second dose depending on their age. (see table).

I am concerned about overloading my child's immune system

MMRV vaccine and/or other vaccines given at the same age will not overload children's immune systems. From birth, a baby's immune system protects them from the germs that surround them. Evidence shows that several vaccines can be safely given at the same time.

Are there any side effects from the MMRV vaccine?

All medicines can cause side effects, but vaccines are among the safest. Common side effects do not usually last long and are mild, such as a sore arm, fever, and a rash. Side effects are less common following the second dose than the first.

What is a fever and how do I treat it?

A fever is a temperature over 37.5°C. Fevers are quite common in young children. They are usually caused by common viruses but can be caused by some vaccines. If your child's face feels hot to the touch and they look red or flushed, they may have a fever. Check their temperature with a thermometer.

Keep your child cool by:

- Making sure they don't have too many layers of clothes or blankets
- Giving them plenty of cool drinks
- A dose of infant liquid paracetamol will help a child with a fever feel better. Read and follow the instructions on the bottle very carefully. You may need to give another dose 4 to 6 hours later.

If you have any questions or concerns about side effects, talk to your doctor, practice nurse or health visitor.

The Mesila Imp

Before you coached us, money worries sat quietly in the background of our lives. Not loud enough to be called a crisis, but persistent enough to cause concern.

We are a busy working couple blessed with a large family. We had outgrown our home, but despite earning well, the idea of taking on a larger mortgage felt impossible.

More fundamentally, everything looked fine yet we felt financially stuck. Between school fees, kosher living expenses, and simchos, we assumed this was simply how life was at this stage.

We reached out to Mesila because our finances always felt tight and never made sense.

The early meetings were revealing. Our Mesila coach slowed us down to look clearly at what we earned, what we spent, and how everything interacted. Seeing it laid out so clearly was eye-opening, but at first we struggled to see how things could change.

Our coach showed us how we could feel that money was under control rather than overwhelming.

Mesila opened up possibilities where we had only felt pressure and anxiety.

We learned exactly where our money was going and where we had room to adjust. That clarity allowed us to streamline our spending without compromising our lifestyle, saving hundreds each month. For the first time since starting our family, our finances felt clear and manageable.

Halfway through the process, real change began to happen.

With our coach's encouragement and practical support, we asked for salary increases that raised our household income by over £10,000 a year.

Our coach also helped us plan for the future. We set up proper savings for upcoming simchos, replacing the old habit of hoping we would manage when the time came.

What surprised us most was how much Mesila changed our relationship with money. With our coach's guidance, tense conversations became calm and practical, and we learned how a financial plan could work in real life, even when the unexpected came up.

WE ARE SO GRATEFUL FOR ALL YOUR WORK

INTERESTING FACTS

1. A large proportion of Hatzola responses never involve sirens... because calm, discreet arrivals can be safer and faster in dense residential areas.
2. Some responders complete more emergency calls in a single night than statutory crews might see across several shifts.
3. Hatzola vehicles must remain operationally clean and restocked at all times, even after difficult or traumatic incidents.

KIDS SPEAK

It was a really nice Tu B'Shevat night. Our whole family was sitting together at the table and that doesn't always happen. The fruits were all laid out and everyone was talking at the same time. I felt happy and cozy, like this was how Tu B'Shevat was supposed to be.

Then suddenly... buzz, buzz.

The Hatzola radios went off. I saw my mother look up right away. She didn't even need to hear the whole thing to know it was for her. I felt a little disappointed. I just wanted one Tu B'Shevat night where we could just enjoy as a family.

My mother stood up and moved to the side with the radio, listening carefully and speaking calmly. From the outside, it didn't look very exciting. She wasn't running out the door or turning on sirens. She was just standing there, talking into a radio. But I know what that really means.

While we were sitting at the table, my mother was helping save a life. She was sending the right people to the right place, making sure help got there fast. No one sees that part, but without her, nothing would work.

Our family time was interrupted, and I missed having her at the table. But I also felt proud. My mother was doing her part for the community, even when it meant leaving our Tu B'Shevat meal. And I know that being patient and understanding means I get a part of that mitzvah too.

The Proud Son of a Hatzola Dispatcher

HATZOLA GRATITUDE LETTER

Please allow me to give a shout out to all the lady dispatchers!!

They are the ones that get the members to you, to help you in your crisis. They give up hours of their time at home answering all your calls.

- Before and after work
- During shabos and yom tov seudos
- They have to coordinate their holidays
- Change hours during simchos
- Limit their hours of davening in shul on Yomim Noiroim, Yomim Toivim and Shabobos.

All so that they can be available to take emergency calls, and help calm the caller and the family.

Hatzola couldn't function without them !

THANK YOU TO ALL OF YOU !!

Mrs Malky Schreiber, proud sister of dispatcher Mrs C F Sternlicht.

Dear Readers

MiKeamchaYisroel!

This past Chanukah, I was truly blown away by the incredible organisation Shalvas Halev. I had only recently signed up after the birth of my son with special needs, never imagining the incredible chizuk they would bring into our lives, quite literally lighting up our Chanukah.

We were, lo aleinu, spending a great deal of time in the hospital as my son faced serious complications. When we finally returned home, we were met with the most unbelievable Chanukah surprise: a huge box overflowing with every toy imaginable! There were things for all ages - from books and toys for the little ones, Playmobil, games and even a sensory bubble tube we could only dream of for our disabled child who can't play with toys! Topped with delicious fresh doughnuts, the thought and work that went into every package was evident.

May Hashem give you the kochos to continue your avodas hakodesh and bench you with alle brachos.

Family

Dear Readers

I wanted to alert and warn everyone who parks near the P&P Wedding Hall that I saw last week two parking inspectors already patrolling from 7.30pm and have already issued 3 parking tickets to anyone who was not parked properly. I saw them also after 9pm.

Please be careful.

Dear Readers

As cycling becomes more popular in our community, I want to remind all riders of a simple but vital safety measure: always ensure your bike is equipped with proper lights. Riding without lights, especially during dusk or in poor visibility, can put both cyclists and other road users at serious risk.

The good news is that staying safe doesn't have to be expensive. A basic set of front and rear lights can be purchased for as little as £10-£15, making it an affordable step that can prevent accidents and save lives. Even a small investment in safety is worth far more than the potential cost of an injury. נשמרתם מאד לנפשותיכם.

Let's all do our part to make our roads safer. Before you ride, check your lights - they could make all the difference.

Dear Readers

Please be aware that offering more money in order to snatch away a flat or house can be a עני המהפך שאלה בחררה.

I went to see a rental and the person after me offered more, forcing me to match this, as I so desperately need to move.

The only one who benefits in this case is the Landlord.

Let us show sensitivity and kindness to each other and in this Zechus may we all be gebentcht with Kol tov.

Kashrus Alert: Radnor Fruitjuices

Please be aware that Radnor Fruit drinks—frequently provided in hospitals like GOSH—are not certified Kosher.

While often labelled as "pure" or "vegan," these products contain stabilizers and flavourings that are listed by UK distributors as not approved for a Kosher diet.

Parents are reminded to be vigilant when getting drinks for children in public settings. Always check for a recognized hechsher, as "Vegetarian" labels do not guarantee kashrus.

A New Shidduch and A New Life With the Power of Tehillim

“For the last 10 years, I’ve been waiting to start a new life,” a woman who experienced a decade of suffering and agmas nefesh shared with Tehillim Kollel.

“I gave in my name and asked that the chashuva bnei aliyah who say the entire sefer Tehillim every day should mention my name and bakashah. At the same time, I was davening, too. As part of the B’as Chaveiro program by Tehillim Kollel, I took upon myself to daven for 40 others in the same situation for 40 days.

“Baruch Hashem!” she exclaimed, ecstatic. “I’m calling today to let you know that I just got engaged! It was certainly in the zechus of the heliige Tehillim that you and I said.”
